From The Editor

This Buyer Guide for Water and Renewable Energy Companies highlights the diverse range of companies contributing to Saudi Arabia's water and energy sectors through innovative technologies, sustainable practices, and high-quality products. These companies play a critical role in addressing KSA challenges related to water scarcity and energy efficiency while fostering economic growth and environmental stewardship.

In Buyer Guide for Water and Renewable Energy Companies A diverse range of companies specializing in innovative technologies and solutions support the water and energy sector in Saudi Arabia.

Among these, notable players include Veolia and Xylem are global giants contributing significantly to water treatment and resource optimization in the region and Filtralite, known for its advanced filtration media, and Amiantit, a leader in pipe manufacturing and water management systems.

Companies like Siemens, Endress + Hauser, Schneider, and ABB bring cutting-edge automation, energy efficiency, and industrial solutions to the sector, while LG and Danfoss are recognized for their expertise in sustainable energy technologies.

The list also includes specialized firms such as Binder Group, Sulzer, and Kurita, which offer solutions in fluid handling, water treatment chemicals, and engineering services.

Huber and Metito are prominent in wastewater treatment and desalination projects, while Grundfos excels in pump systems for water supply and distribution.

Companies like Dupont, Hach, and Jacobi focus on advanced filtration, water quality analysis, and activated carbon solutions, respectively. Clack and Pentair also contribute with their expertise in water purification systems.

Mohamed Khalifa

Founder and CEO

Global engineering leaders such as ANDRITZ and Atlas Copco, and local firms like Alkhorayef and Reda Group, play a vital role in providing industrial equipment and services tailored to the region's needs.

Additionally, companies like Ebara and Elsweddy are instrumental in delivering innovative water infrastructure solutions.

Specialized firms like Mecana AG and AquaChemie bring niche expertise in water treatment technologies and chemical solutions, further enhancing the sector's capabilities. Together, these companies form a robust network driving sustainable development in Saudi Arabia's water and energy industries.
